TELEPHONE NO. 124.

PUBLISHED EVERY TUESDAY AND FRIDAY

GEO. D. MITCHELL, — EDITOR.

Our Humble Bow.

On Wednesday morning last, THE BOURBON NEWS changed hands. Mr. Swift Champ retiring and Geo. D. Mitchell taking charge. To the former, whose health is impaired, we offer our very best wishes and trust that he may be much benefitted by his retirement from an active business life.

In taking up journalism once more, we will not say that we expect to revolutionize things in the newspaper line. We will be satisfied to follow in the lines of the founder and his successors of THE NEWS, who have so successfully conducted the paper in the past twenty-one years.

We will endeavor, at all times, to give the public a bright, newsy paper, with all the happenings of the day. To our friends, to right, to justice, to truth, to morals, it will be true. When it is necessary to use heroic surgery, we will not adopt a kitchen knife whetted on a brick-bat. When we see the necessity to strike, we will set aside the tack-hammer and use the pile-driver. We will make no pretensions to infallibility; our errors will be the common errors of humanity.

What we will do, we will do without fear or favor.

We shall never invade the home to expose the skeleton unless the creator of the skeleton poses as a purist, then only expose to unmask the hypocrite.

The official acts of men are public property. It is more pleasant to praise than to pain, truth must not be slaughtered.

What you see in this paper will be clean, but clearly expressed. Take it to your homes, and it will act as a tonic in your family circle. There may be in it some things we would all rather not see, but they exist. Our ideas will not come from the slums. Read the paper and have your neighbor read it. It will prove a moral invigorator and a political investigator.

The politics of THE NEWS will be thoroughly Democratic, and will never say anything else under our management. We were born a Democrat and are willing to live with that party the rest of our life.

We desire to thank many friends who have wished us well in our venture, and to say that we will do our utmost to merit their good will.

"With malice toward none
And Charity for All,"

THE EDITOR.

At Georgetown Mrs. Pearl A. Dodge presented to the Elks Lodge a handsome sofa pillow. The design is an elk's head beautifully embroidered in purple silk. The gift was accompanied by a note expressing her appreciation of the several elegant entertainments given by the Lodge and its marked progressiveness and kind wishes for its continued prosperity. Mrs. Dodge is the widow of the late Mr. Mills Dodge, formerly of this county.

SENATOR HANNA's supporters charge that there is a conspiracy in Ohio to retire him from office.

My gentle reader, as your thoughts wander to the future, resolve that you will stand well with yourself during the coming year, whether you stand well with others or not. Resolve never again to set a cheap estimate upon yourself or your chances in life.

THE time is again with us when we look back over the mistakes of the past year and begin to make resolutions for the next twelve months to come, and formulate plans to make it the best year ever known. Many plans are made for better work in the future and many bad habits broken and we start out with new and fresh resolves. How long, my dear reader, will these good intentions last?

We will soon become tired, the Spring months will come upon us with its warm days and we will begin to forget that we ever made such resolutions, and we will give up the thought of our New Year's resolutions. If we could only keep them always before us much might be done for there is only one way to do things, and that is to follow strictly in the paths we have laid out. At first, one follows closely to the resolutions made, but soon becomes careless.

Now, my dear ones, try hard, to keep your new resolutions. If you are so unfortunate as to be a cigarette fiend, resolve that you will quit and quit for good. If you take an occasional toddy, let it alone for this year, and next year you will not desire it. If you are in the habit of quarrelling with your sweetheart, stop it, and she will love you the more for it. There are a great many resolves that one could make, but what ever one makes, resolve to keep it.

CALEB POWERS will soon have to go to the penitentiary without appeal. He has only a short time in which to prepare his case for the higher court and he has no funds to pay for the stenographic report of testimony.

CONGRESSMEN WHEELER and Smith and Judge Cantrill, candidates for the United States Senate, are at Frankfort to open headquarters and meet the coming legislators. Democratic State Chairman Young reached Frankfort on Wednesday and will issue the caucus for Monday, January 6.

AMUSEMENTS.

"TWO MARRIED MEN."

One of the greatest successes on the road last season was "Two Married Men," which is booked to appear at the Grand next Tuesday night. It has been called by the dramatic critics of the larger cities the best farce that was ever written, and so "Two Married Men" will probably be the best entertainment that will be provided by the local management this winter. It is filled with specialties by high salaried artists, and to miss "Two Married Men" is to miss the best laugh of the season.

The attraction at the Grand on Tuesday next, Jan. 7th, will be Geo. Edson's comedy, "Two Married Men," which has been one of the most successful comedies on the road the past three seasons, and is said to be better this year than ever. Among the high class specialties introduced are those of Colton & Darrow, Chas. E. Schilling, Frank and Mable Colton, the Sisters Dewey, Joe Harkins and Kitty Ridgeway. The company carries all special scenery and gives a clean, bright entertainment. Prices, 25, 35 and 50 cents.

"Way Down East," which comes to the Grand on the 11th of January, is looked upon as one of the best pieces of the theatrical property in America. It has all the elements that made "The Old Homestead" and "Shore Acres" such great money winners, and like Tennyson's "Brook" will run on forever.

GENERAL NEWS.

With the last issue of the Georgetown Times that paper entered upon its 38th year and Editor Bell can congratulate himself of the fact that he is getting out a good weekly.

The banquet given by the women of Lexington to the out-of-town students at the various colleges of that city was held Monday night. Fully 200 students were present. City School Superintendent Rogers Clay presided as toastmaster, and toasts were responded to by Dean Baker P. Lee, C. D. Hall, R. M. Hall, R. M. Allen, the Rev. R. O. Kirkwood, President B. A. Jenkins and others. The senior class of Hamilton Female College attended in a body. Society girls of Lexington acted as waitresses.

A Mt. Sterling special says: A hot fight is on in this town over the liquor question, and it promises to get warmer. Realizing that the Council was going to grant license for the sale of whisky for the ensuing year, the pastors' conference, composed of all the ministers of the town, decided to ask the Council to raise the license from $650 to $1,000, and to close all saloons 10 o'clock at night and for a strict enforcement of the Sunday law. Failing to comply with the last two things mentioned forfeits the license. This fight on them by the ministers has stirred up the saloon men.

STOCK AND CROP.

The Lexington Gazette says fodder delivered in Lexington is selling at 60 cents a shock.

The high price of wheat may cause many of the largest flour mills in Kansas to shut down.

St. Simon is now 20 years of age, and his fee is $3,000. All told his direct progeny has won the fabulous sum of $2,500,000.

Jos. C. Grady, of Woodford, has sold his 2-year-old Hereford bull, Beau Donald V., to O. Harris, of Harris, Mo., for $1,000.

Dealers who supply milk to Versailles have advanced the price from 20 to 30 cents a gallon, and cream from 75 cents to $1 a gallon.

Jonas Weil sold his farm of 384 acres, near Lexington, on the Lexington and Winchester pike, to John E. Madden, at $117 per acre.

Alex Pearson, of Lexington, has sold to John Phister the farm of 310 acres known as the Higgins place for $35,650, an average of $115 an acre. It is 3 miles from Lexington, on Maysville pike, and is one of the finest in the State.

PLACE TO GO.—If you are going to call on your best girl, or expect to go to a swell reception, or for that matter, if you just feel like you want to feel good, why call at Carl Crawford's barber shop and get a shave, a hair cut, a shampoo or a bath, and you will feel like a new man. His service is prompt and thorough.

You Do, or You Don't Need Glasses

The eye being a rather delicate organ, great care should be exercised in the selection of proper glasses. Many believe that glasses should be resorted to only when the sight becomes so defective as not to be able to do without. This is a great mistake which must be combated. Whenever there is unmistakable evidence of the need of their aid, they should be used. A neglect of this rule sometimes produces mischief which results in serious trouble if the course be persisted in.

Our Dr. C. H. BOWEN having just returned from taking a special course in Optics from one of the best specialists in New York, is prepared to do the best of work, having the latest improved methods of fitting. Examinations free. Next visit Wednesday, Jan. 8, 1902.
